Dr. Morrison was summoned, and an examination was made, which showed a wound in the left breast just over the heart. The shirt was badly powder-burnt, showing that the weapon had been held very close to the body—in fact, almost touching it. The bullet had struck a rib and glanced, encircling the body and lodging in the back just beneath the shoulder blade. The man was very drunk and insisted that the shooting was accidental. By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23,-[By the Associated Press By its action today in seating Langston, the House ended what was probably the most protracted and bitterly contested election case it has ever decided. The result was a surprise to the Democratic minority, which after two weeks of successful obstruction was confident its opponents could not secure a quorum. But the 'whips' had been active. During the first roll call it was discovered that Milliken of Maine and Mudd of Maryland were not present, and messengers were immediately sent after them. Sweney of Iowa, who had not been expected so soon. came in at this juncture and with Mr. Mudd cast the votes necessary to make a quorum. The further proceedings were remarkably expeditious. and Mr. O'Ferrall, the lonely Demo cratic sentinel, was absolutely power less to check the majority. The yea and nay vote declaring Mr. Venable not elected showed 165 Republicans in attendance, including those who did not vote, but were paired. Messrs. T. M. Brown of Indians, Butterworth, Connell, Ewart, Finley, Hansbrough, Peters and Wilson of Ken-tucky were the Republicans absent without pairs, and of these Messrs. Brown, Finley and Wilson had leave on account of sickness. The Miller case, which followed the Langston case, was even a greater surprise, and in fact it was not known generally to the Republicans that their eaders contemplated this move. The Democratic minority was considerably vexed over the result of the day's proceedings, and a call for a caucus was circulated with the purpose of endeavering to unite the party, by way of retailation, upon a policy of treatment the $75 check drawn in favor of Lockwood. He said that it was given him

The defense next called Harvey Branscombe. The witness testified that he resided at Calabasas, and that he had known Damron for six years; also that he knew Lockwood; that about July 20th he had learned the whereabouts of Damron from his wife, and on Monday he went to the Redick block and saw Damron in room 12. He was never in the block but twice.

The defense endeavored to secure the admission of immaterial evidence from the witness, but on objection it was ruled out. At the conclusion of Mr. Branscombe's testimony a recess was taken until 1:30.

by Judge Campbell. He admitted that he had paid the rent of Mrs. Foster's room, No. 12, in the Redick block, and further added that it had been charged to him after July 1st, The judge then asked: "Is it not a fact sir, that this woman, Mrs. Foster, was your mistress?"

"No sir, it is not," said the witness Lockwood, in a most emphatic manner. "I dare you to ask that question on the street."

"That's all right. We will look into this matter a little further."

At this point the witness was asked six weeks ago in relation to this woman Foster?"

The question created a sensation in the courtroom. Judge Campbell requested a few minute's time in order that Mr. Hardesty might write out the conversation as he alleged it occurred. The time was granted, and when the cross-examination was resumed Judge Campbell asked:

"Did not Mr. Hardesty ask you in front of the United States Hotel about six weeks ago who the lady was that you were taking Spanish lessons with before Prof. Cayss, and did you not then say it was your mistress?"

"No sir, I did not," was the decided response of the witness Lockwood.

But on redirect examination the witness was asked to tell all that he knew about the charge that he "had harbored J. M. Damron, a fugitive from justice, from July 19th to July 25th." In response to this, Lockwood swore:

On July 14th last I met Damron in front of the Courthouse on Spring rest. He asked me to sign a note for him for $100. He said that he owed Chadwick some money and must pay him, but that he desired me to appear as the maker of the note. I consented room for a few days."

When he told me he was going to leave the rooms in the Redick block, I understood him to say that he was going to another room, the location of which I know not of; and on the next day, Saturday, he was going to send for Martin Aguirre and give himself up, whether he heard from Hervey Lindley or not.

At this juncture the witness was shown the forged note. He awore that while the signature "W. C. Lockwood" was remarkably like his, he wood, was remarkably like his, he admit of the erection of a larger structure of the signature of the complete and churchmen throughout the city in the church at large.

After the address the service was concluded with the formal laying of the stone, and the benediction by Dean Trew of San Gabriel.

St. John's is to be a tasteful Gothle structure of brick, with stone facing and wood, capable of seating 150 peodie.

Lindley or not.

At this juncture the witness was shown the forged note. He awore that while the signature "W. C. Lockwood" was remarkably like his, he would not swear positively it was his. He had no recollections of endorsing a check for $75. Although the signature appearing upon the check was somewhat like his, there were several letters dissimilar to any he ever made in writing his name.

Big Bomb Found in a Spring-Street Lodging House.

Yesterday morning a large bomb was house over the American Restaurant, on Spring street, between Fifth and Sixth. The bomb was discovered by Mrs Dunn, the landlady, among a pile of coal and rubbish in the hallway, when she came down the steps, and she called in Officer Chase, who examined the infernal machine. The bomb was about a foot long, with a piece of pipe running through the center, and was four or five inches in diameter. It was tightly wrapped in paper such as is used in making firecrackers, and contained a big chunk of lead in one end. A fuse made of a piece of Damron came to my room.

nd sensational facts The trial of City Justice Walter C. Lockwood before inperior Judge Cheney in Department One yesterday elicited some new and sensational facts which had not before been brought out. Contrary to expectations and statements made by coinsel, the case did not go to the jury last evening, but it surely will today. Judge Cheney upon the adjournment of court last evening only dismissed the jury upon the condition that two witnesses, and no more, are to be examined today. One is the shorthand reporter in Justice Austin's court, Mr. McAllister. He is for the prose tion. The other is J. M. Damron, whom the defense desire to place upon the stand. The trial of City is J. M. Damron, which the defense desire to place upon the stand.

VIGNES'S TESTIMONY.

The testimony which was elicited from H. C. Vignes yesterday morning would rather indicate that Deputy District Attorney Hardesty was on trial and not the defendant, Lockwood. By a witness, which the defense placed on the stand, in the person of Mr. Vignes, a deputy constable, they sought to prove that Mr. Hardesty had endeavored to intimidate Vignes into swearing to a complaint against Lockwood upon the charge of harboring a fugitive from justice; that he had threatened to secure his discharge if he did not do so; in fact, the testimony from 10 a, m. until noon was all in this direction.

THE DEFENDANT WEPT.

But in the afternoon, when the defendant himself, City Justice Walter C. Lockwood, was placed on the stand, the complexion of testimony was somewhat changed. In the first place, the defendant, after testifying for about half an hour as to facts in the case, commenced to cry, and he could not answer the questions put to him by his own attorneys, owing to the fact that an alleged flow of tears choked his utterance.

THE NEXT SENSATION.

THE NEXT SENSATION.

The next sensation that occurred in the courtroom was about 3 p. m., when the defense on redirect examination asked the defendant concerning a letter which he is alleged to have mailed to San Francisco on Sunday, the 20th inst., or the day after Damron reached the Redick block. The court ruled the introduction of this point out and half an hour was speat in an endeavor by the defendant's attorneys to get the subject in.

Finally Judge Campbell said, "Let the matter go in." To this Mr. Hardesty said "I have no objection to the introduction of the testimony, but I object to such shystering methods."

Mr. Ling, one of the attorneys for the defense heard this and he arose and addressed the court as follows:
"May it please your honor, I desire to have the statement of the District At-

The transcript of the court reporter's notes in the preliminary examination of Chadwick was then produced and Judge Campbell read to Lockwood what his testimony was on that occasion. Then he testified that Damron had told him on the date named above that he (Damron) had signed Lockwood's name to the $75 check. He was asked yesterday if the statement then made was true and if he had so testified. The witness's reply was:

"I have really testified so many times in these forgery cases that I cannot remember whether I made such a statement in the Chadwick case or not, but I do not believe that I did."

Court Reporter McAllister will be brought in today with his notes and by him it is expected to prove exactly what Lockwood did testify to at Chadwick's pre!iminary examination on this point.

THE PESTIMONY.

What Was Disclosed on the Witness Stand Yesterday.

H. C. Vignes, the Deputy Constable, was the first witness the defense placed on the stand yesterday. His testimony has substantially been given before. It was about conversations he had with Lockwood after Damron's frearrest; where and what transpred. He broke down crying finally, and was excused a few minutes until be coultry. Lockwood had told him at the blackwood hi the time that Damron had no inten-

On cross-examination the witness admitted that Lockwood had told him that he did not consider Damron a fugitive from justice; that not knowing differently he had permitted him to remain in his rooms.

Then followed the seusational statements of Mr. Vignes in relation to Mr. Hardesty threatening to have him discharged if he did not swear to a complaint for Lockwood's arrest. The witness became "sassy" at this point and he and Mr. Hardesty had quite a controversy, much to the apparent disgust of Judge Campbell.

Finally Vignes was turned over to the defense for redirect examination. the defense for redirect examination. Then he swore that after he had refused to swear to the Lockwood complaint Mr. Hardesty added some interlineations and swore to it himself. Mr. Hardesty asked Vignes if he had requested him to perjure himself in swearing to the complaint. To this Vignes replied that while Mr. Hardesty had not directly asked him to do still be desired to take no chances. o still he desired to take no chances, as he knew a portion of the complaint to be untrue.

The witness was asked if he was not

THE BARRUNDIA AFFAIR.

Blaine Says the Guatermalans Were in the Fight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[By the Associated Press.] The Herald's Washington correspondent, commenting on the Barrundia case, says: "I am able to give a brief of Mr. Blaine's opinion in this case, which, though not intended for publication at this time, shows the diplomatic side of the question in its favorable light. The Secretary of State holds that the authorities of Guatemala had indisputable right to arrest Gen. I think he went back to the bank. Bosbyshell and Flint were there and I reiterated that my signature to the note was a forgery. I was shown the $75 check drawn in my favor and stated positively that I had never signed it. While in the bank it suddenly occurred to me that I had on the day previous signed some papers for Damron and I thought it was possible that I had signed the note. I so informed Mr. Flint.

Hardesty, Bosbyshell, Flint and myself then went to Damron's office, but he was not in. I went to Mr. Kelly as requested and asked that the matter be pushed no further. Mr. Hardesty asked if I desired to compound a felony. I said no, but I could not see what good could be accomplished by crowding men to the wall. I said at the same time I was confident that I did not sign the Getchell note.

Dyer's Ball Fixed at $10,000-Bot of the Men Still Refuse to Talk-Rumors and

The shooting affray between Frank J. Dyer, editor of the East Side Citizen, and James H. Taylor, formerly of South Riverside, which took place in front of the Natick House, Monday afternoon, and in which Taylor was wounded, turns out to be much more serious than was at first supposed. When Taylor was first wounded he stated that his injuries were not serious, that it was in fact, only a flesh wound, and requested that this be published, as he did not wish to alarm his friends and relatives, who live at Riv-He passed a comparatively quiet night, but yesterday morning took a turn for the worse, and his condition is now such as to cause the greatest apprehension on the part of his physician, Dr. K. D. Wise. The bullet entered the left hip, striking the joint, and passing around the bone, injured the sciatic nerve, and is either embedded in the fleshy part of the thigh, or has entered the pelvis. At any rate, the bullet has not been found, and there is no way at present of determining the full extent of his injuries. As the day advanced Taylor's condition grew worse, and during the afternoon he became delirious.

DYER IN COURT.

Dyer, by his attorney, yesterday made application before Justice Austin for a partial examination, with a tin for a partial examination, with a view to fixing bail, and 3 o'clock was set for the hearing. At that hour the prisoner was brought into court, accompanied by his wife. He was rather pale, but cool and collected, and pleasantly greeted one or two of his acquaintances as he came in with his attorney and took his seat in the dock, his wife occupying a chair behind him, outside the rail. There were but very few persons in the courtroom at the time, and the examination of Dr. Wise, Taylor's physician, was at once proceeded with.

Dr. Wise, in answer to questions,

Dr. Wise, in answer to questions, stated that he was professionally attending Taylor, and briefly described the nature of the wound. From the fact that it was near the largest joint in the body, and that it was the largest nerva in the body that was est nerve in the body that was injured, he considered the wound a very bad one, dangerous, but not necessarily fatal. The gravity of the case was further increased from the fact that the patient was suffering from a discased heart creased from the fact that the patient was suffering from a diseased heart, which complicated matters. He declined to express any opinion as to the probable time that would elapse before Taylor could get out, in case he recovered, saying it might be ten days or as many weeks. The patient was delirious, and he could tell but little, if anything, at this time. All he would say the particular that no one could say how it would result.

The doctor was questioned at some length by the attorney for the defense, and in answer te the question as to whether or not he thought that with proper treatment, the patient would recover, he replied that he could not say, that if he were to toss up half-a-dollar and say heads he will recover and tails he will die, it would be as reliable as the could recover. he will die, it would be as reliable as his opinion at this time. He could only repeat that he considered the wound a very dangerous one.

Justice Austin replied that, in view of the testimony of the physician, but little was left to the discretion of the court at this time. He did not feel justified, under the circumstances, in fixing the bail at less than $10,000, it, but no one wished to be quoted as authority in the matter.

One man, who formerly lived at Riverside and is acquainted with both parties, said that he knew the facts. He said that the trouble between the men first commenced two years ago, when a party went from Riverside to the beach. Among this party were Taylor and Mrs. Dyer. Dyer, who was publishing a paper in Riverside at the time, was detained by his business at home. While at the beach there was some talk about Mrs. Dyer and Taylor, which was repeated in Riverside. Dyer afterwards closed out his business and removed to Los Angeles, and after a time, Taylor, who formerly ran a hardware store, also sold out and came to this city. moved to los Angeles, and after a time. Taylor, who formerly ran a hardware store, also sold out and came to this city. After their removal to Los Angeles, Mrs. Dyer refused to have anything to do with Taylor, or even to speak to him on the street. This angered Taylor, and he is said to have made slighting remarks about the lady. A week or two ago Taylor is said to have met Mrs. Dyer while she was riding on a street car with a young lady friend, and attempted to enter into a conversation with her. She refused to notice him, when he made an insulting remark to the lady, whereupon she ordered him to leave the car. Dyer was not in the city when this occurred, but when he returned he was told about it, and the shooting followed.

Dyer was seen at the County Jail last evening, and was told this story, but he declined to either deny or confirm it, saying that while he would like to talk, his attorney had advised him to say nothing, and he would follow his advice.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Trustees—News Notes.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 23.—[Correspondence of The Times.] The Board of Trustees held their regular meeting Monday evening, President Carillo in the chair. Warrants were ordered drawn upon the Treasurer to pay sundry small bills. In the matter of grading Fifth street between Arizona and Nevada avenues, the declaration of intention was ordered to be published, and a twenty-foot sidewalk was established, Dr. Elliott's appeal being dismissed. Mr. Abbot Kinney addressed the board upon the matter of closing the aliey in the rear of the Casino, stating that the stockholders could get the lots directly in the rear, Jones and Baker offering to deed the same to them; that they intended to make various improvements which would cost $5000, and to make the same they would require the necessary space in the alley; it would not inconvenience any of the property-owners in the block, and the improvements, which would consist of a dancing pavilion and the addition of three courts, would make the tennis courts here the finest by long odds in the State. The matter was referred to the Street Committee with power. Mr. Kinney also explained various bills incurred in planting trees upon and taking care of Nevada avenue within the corporate limits. He also stated that Jones & Baker would grant a right-of-way through their property, so that Seventh street could be made another boulevard for the benefit of the residents and summer and winter guests of the resort, stating that the Board of Supervisors would furnish the corporate limits.

"A GROWL."

Ma. Editor: Although my taxes are small, yet they are as burdensome to me as if I paid much more. And as a tax-payer, I feel that I have a right to criticise those extravagances that are factors in the creation of high taxes. I have in my mind the county hospital. No sooner does the impecunious citizen become broken down and debilitated, than he restee off to the hospital. Even persistent dyspepsis and constipation are getting to be excuses for admission. Hence, allow me space to enter my feeble protest against further continuance of this pernicious practice. It costs the county many hard dollars for the treatment of every one of these unfortunates, and it is high time that they should know that they can save the county that expense, and themselves those distressing allments, by the judicious use of a few bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, — a remedy that within my observation is a sovereign cure for those toe common disorders. If they won't take, it they ought to be compelled to by some law that would meet the case. Under the circumstances a full hospital is inexcusable, — hence this growl.

Regular Meeting of the Improve-ment Society. The regular meeting of the Crown Hills Improvement Society was held ast evening at the Ellis College Hall, with J. M. Witmer chairman. The Committee on Water, as usual, discussed the water question at length.

Mr. Sheward stated that the suits instituted against the water company were progressing.

The special committee reported that they had interviewed several attorneys as to the best course to pursue in case of the water supply being turned off for non-payment of meter rates. It seemed to be the general conclusion that the cheapest way was to turn the water on again, and in case of the water company cutting.

J. M. Witmer, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced Rev. I. C. Fletcher J. M. Witmer, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced Rev. I. C. Fletcher as having recently arrived in this city, after a residence of eighteen years in Italian cities, and had now taken up his residence on the Crown Hills, who would deliver an address on the water supply of ancient and modern Italian cities. Mr. Fletcher came forward, and those present, of whom there were many ladies, had the pleasure of listening for three quarters of an hour to a very entertaining and instructive address. He explained what great care the old Romans took to have good water in unlimited quantities and of the municipal control of all the water, a perfect system. He concluded his remarks by stating that he had come to Los Angeles to stay and was pleased with the city, but was horrified by the condition of the drinking water furnished on the hills.

The question of future water supply was discussed at some length and the necessity of the city taking immediate action was urged.

Some time ago Justice Marshall, sitting for Justice Savage, gave a verdict for the plaintiff by default in the case of John Lowe against John Lee, C. A. Lee and Eva Lee for $85.45 rent due on a house on San Pedro street in this city. At the time John Lee was in Washington, the new State, C. A. Lee was dead and the only remaining defendant, Eva was a young girl and a minor. This being the case, she was unable to make a contract and should not have been a party defendant or for that matter party plaintiff to the suit.

This would have been passed, however, but it seems that Miss Eva had a plano left her by a deceased relative and this was seized.

Police Surgeon Morton had himself appointed guardian ad litem of the minor child. This action upon the part of Mr. Mortion is very creditable, as it will have the effect of preventing Eva being illegally despoiled of her property. At the request and petition of Mr. Mortion Justice Savage yester day reopened the case.

AID FOR MRS, JESSIE BENTON

It becomes a painful duty to publicly announce that the distinguished daughter of the eminent Senator Benton, and the widow of "The Path-finder," Maj-Gen. John C. Frement deceased, is in distressed circumstances, financially. She is now living in Los Angeles with her daughter, and is seriously ill. Pending the action of Congress in the matter of pension for Mrs. Frémont, appeal is made to Californians and to all patriotic citizens for aid to relieve her present necessities. THE BLIND MAN WITH A WHIP.

Never in the history of American politics, or doubtless in the history of any other country, has there existed such a state of affairs as rules today in the Democratic organization of this State. A barkeeper, who is a fellow as ordinary as any of the thousands who pass out liquid damnation across the bars of our cities, is today the absolute master of that party and its candidates, from Governor down. It is a fact so notorious that it seems a work of supererogation to mention it, that office in San Francisco could secure it without groveling at the feet of this master of the slums. The added fact that he is stone blind makes the case one of the marvels of the century. Through his manipulations of the politics of San Francisco he has amassed a fortune estimated at close upon a million of dollars; dressed in the height of fashion and leaning upon the arm of one of his trusty heelers, he walks the streets of the Arcade depot and runs straight out Sixth and Ward for the century. AGE As the time approaches when our erior sewer system will be completed, it is fitting to consider ways and means for disposing of the sewage that will be delivered by that system to the

From a recent article in Harper's Magazine we learn that in 1876 s drainage and sewage union was formed with the towns close around Birmingham, making up an aggregate population of 605,594 souls. The rainage Board of this union manages farm of 1200 acres in the Tame Valley. The sewage is conveyed to it an 8-foot conduit, and is passed through the land by an extensive system of filtration by gravity, after which the effluent reaches the Tame River near by, in the condition of pure water. The sludge remaining after the disposal of the fluid is dug into the land. The meat, milk and vegetables grown on the farm and sold from it annually realize nearly £25,000. It is insisted that in time the system will yield enough to pay its cost.

In dealing with the problem, the authorities separate the night soil and ashes from the sewage. The night soil is controlled by what is called the pan system; metal pans, capacious enough for a week's use, being periodically carted away in closed wagons, which also remove the ashes collected in a of the Teutonic, and arrived yesterday e movement for raising, by popular tub in each yard. Here the night soil is dried, and sold as pouning a race from Yokohama to San drette, or patent manure. There is a profit of a few pence per ton in this branch of the work. The ushes are sorted by a contractor, who takes out whatever is of value. The rest is melted in furnaces, and made into a coarso material, partly vitreous and Aid for Mrs. partly metal, which is used to fill hollows, or, when mixed with Portland cement, makes a very good paving

As soon as the next Council is elected it would be well for it to make some systematic studies of sewage disposition, in order that, when the time comes, we may be ready to act.

THE NEW ELECTRIC RAILWAY PROJECT.

The franchise asked by the new elec tric railway company, which is now be-fore the Council, is for fifty years. According to the terms of the franchise, work is to be commenced on the road within sixty days; six miles are to be completed and in operation within one year from the time of granting the franchise, and the whole road is to be completed within three years.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[By the Associated Press.] St. hundred dollars was today wired from this city to the widow of Ges. John C. Frémont, being the aggregat of two private gifts.

The projectors claim that if the franchise is granted them, they will do better than the foregoing requirement; that they will commence work within thirty days, and complete the road within twelve months.

To fully appreciate the magnitude of the enterprise, it is necessary to study a map of the city on which the route of the railroad has been marked out. It covers, as nearly as can be There is one main line covering a circuitous route, with four branches. Sidney Smith declared that it required a surgical operation to get a joke into a Scotchman's head. The average Englishman does not go so far as that. but claims that it takes about a week for a humorous idea to percolate into the cranium of a canny Scot, who will. they say, sometimes, when all alone, burst into roars of laughter over a wit ticism that had been told him a week before. So with the 'Bone, which always needs three or four days to catch the drift of our bland and childlike remarks. And yet we write pretty plain English. The 'Bone's cranium is a good subject for a drill.

THE Examiner is not treating Col. Markham very kindly, but there is no cause for complaint of its liberality in supplying the Republican Governor that is to be, with private secretaries. Senate and House Conferees Tired of Talk.

WASHINGTON. Sept. 23 .- [By the Associated Press.] The Republican tariff conferees took a respite from their labors tonight. The situation is now such that no good, it is thought, can me of talking the matter over any further. The conferees have had turned upon them all the light that can be diffused upon the only items in the bill now unsettled-sugar and binding, twine and when they adjourned ing, twine and when they adjourned tonight it was hoped by tomorrow one side or the other will show a disposition to yield. The basis on which the metal and glassware schedules, which have been the causes of much contention, were settled tonight was that the duty on steel rails and structural iron shall remain as in the House bill, and the duty on steel billes is dised at a rate lower than provided for by the House bill and higher than fixed by the Senate. These were three of the principal items in this schedule in dispute. The rates fixed on other items in the schedule cannot be given, but are very generally lower be given, but are very generally lower than the House rates and higher than the Senate rates. This last statement applies also to the glassware schedule in which were a great many different in which were a great many differences in rates between the two branches of Congress. The tobacco clauses of the in-ternal revenue section of the bill re-main as fixed by the House with the main as fixed by the House with the exception that the tax on tobacco and snoff is reduced 2 cents instead of 4 cents, making the rate provided by the bill 6 cents a pound. May let is fixed as the period when the tobacco clauses of the measure go into effect. Special heenses on dealers are abolished. This is provided for by the House.

INUNDATIONS IN CHINA.

How the Anti-railroad Faction Tool WASHINGTON Sept. 23.—[By the Associated Press.] The department of State has received from the United tes legation at Pekin, China, a re-rt relative to the recent heavy floods. e report says the floods were the lous ever known. An area of miles and a population of al millions were affected by nem. Many people were drowned and tens of thousands are living upon result of the floods may have eaching consequences. Near which is a point on the railroad longku to Tongshan, the railway embankment was destroyed by the people for miles. It was alleged that the embankment was damaged by the water which flooded the country. It is supposed the general in command at these proceedings, in which his soldiers largely took part. A very serious feature of the case is the stupidness of the viceroy, who has done nothing to prevent these lawless proceedings. The Tongshaw colliery is stopped. Three thousand men are out of employment, and the operation of the railroad is suspended. This destruction was wanton and unnecessary. All the proceedings indicate an antirallroad excitement, which may result in po tooning indefinitely any further railroad enterprises in China.

Do you mean, my friends, to allow the Southern white man, because he votes in the South, to count more than you do in the Go vernment of this country? Do you mean that he shall have increased representation in this Government, so that he shall carry more weight than you? (Applause.)

PERILS OF WHALING.

Two Sailors Killed by an Infurlated Leviathlan. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—[By the Associated Press.] The captain of the schooner Maggie Mac, which arrived here today from the north, reports having spoken the whaler John and Winthrop. On August 19th the Winthrop sighted a large whale and two boats were sent after it. As soon as the whale was struck by the harpoons it wrecked both boats by striking them with its tail. The men were thrown into the water and two were killed. Another had both legs broken. The John and Winthrop rebroken. The John and whales. ported having caught eight whales.

THE BENWELL MURDER.

ne Evidence Favorable to Bur-chell Offered. WOODSTOCK (Ont.,) Sept. 23.—[By he Associated Press.] In the Burchell trial today young Pelley testified that Burchell wore overshoes. This tended to contradict the evidence that Burchell's shoes were muddy and to show that he was not the man in Benwell's company near the swamp. Burchell showed no more anxiety about Benwell than would be natural in a fellow traveler. Charles Benwell, the murdered man's Charles Benwell, the murdered man's brother, identified various articles found on and neur the body.

William Davis, a civil engineer, testified, his evidence going to show that Burchell could not have walked from Eastwood station to where the body was found and back in the time allotted.

Joseph Eldridge, one of the brothers who found the body, detailed the circumstances minutely.

Constable Watson told about the identification of Benwell's body by Burchell. At the same time he seemed much affected and declared he would give a good deal of money to have the

CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS.

They Continue to Find Favor in Eastern Markets. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[By the Associated Press.] Included in the arrivals of California produce yesterday by the steamer which runs in connection with the Sunset line were 7650 cases and sacks of apricots, dried grapes and peaches. Nearly one-half of these go to New England, chiefly to Boston Evaporated apricots will largely take the place of dried peaches in the ordinary trade, owing to unusually high prices that will be asked for the latter fruit. The steamer also brought 7000 bales of Pacific Coast hops. These are bales of Pacific Coast hops. These are important now, as they compare favorably with the moderate offering of New York growers. There were besides 450 packages of strained honey. This article has obtained an enlarged foothold in the Eastern trade on account of its richness and purity, and the best clear white finds a ready sale to druggists who must not use adulterated or "glucosed" honey. PRUDISH BROOKLYN.

Her Teachers Think one of Long NEW YORK, Sept. 23 .- [By the Asociated Press.] Several public school principals of Brooklyn have asked that Longfellow's poem, "The Building of the Ship," be excluded from the school room. They have discovered portions of the poem which are enough, in their opinions, to bar its reading by growing children and class it with books to which the privilege of public circulation through the mails is denied. Superintendent Maxwell, however, says: 'I do not think the matter worthy of discussion. It is ridiculous. I am surprised that any one could be able to discover anything in the poem that should cause the least comment.

Where is Gambetta's Heart?
[Chieszo Tribuna.]
The question of the hour, which is heard at every turn throughout Paris, is: "What has become of Gambetta's heart?" It is well known that after the death of the great statesman, the last day of 1882, M. Paul Bert had the heart removed from the body, preserved, and sent to the keeping of some one whose name has not yet transpired at Cahors, at the time of the unveiling of the Gambetts monument there. M. at Cahors, at the time of the unveiling of the Gambetta monument there. M. Bert always announced that he intended to place the heart within the great memorial which was erected to the memory of the orator-statesman in Paris, but in 1886 M. Bert was appointed to the governorship of Tonquin and Annam, and he died in the Far East November 11 of that year. Seemingly he left no memorandum as to the place in which he had placed the heart, and now it cannot be found. The whole affeir is shrouded in great mystery and diligent search is being made for the missing organ to the accompaniment of popular excitement.

NEVER in the history of this house has so much thought, time and expense been so willingly given to the purchase of Fall Goods as there has been this season. Two buyers sought the market this Autumn, and have given their undivided attention to the purchases. We can say no labor nor pains have been spared in accomplishing our one object, and that was to give the ladies of this community an equal chance with their sisters on the Atlantic Coast of having the pick and choice of the Novelties in Dry Goods. We didn't rush in the Market and buy any and everything, and pay large prices, but simply worked and used our brains in selections. If you buy too early you don't get the Choicest Novelties, and you pay too much. Don't, Ladies, be in a hurry to buy, for you will surely repent at your leisure unless you have visited our house. We are sure to please you with style, quality and price. This is no idle talk; but you can't afford to purchase anything until you visit us. Our Novelties are Select in Style and Texture. Our prices are lower than ever. For two reasons we claim this: First-It is our aim to handle a larger quantity than ever; Second-We have bought our Goods as low as cash would purchase, and we had the Market and Cash to command only the lowest prices from the importer.

Rough Stuffs, in Mixed, Plain and Plaids, have the preference in everything in Woolen Goods. Plushes especially are to be used in a variety of forms in Trimmings. Astrachans are affected in many ways for Trimming. Velvet Embroidered are used for Gigot Sleeves, Bla k Grounds with Colored Figures have the preference. Plain Velvets and Velveteens are used extensively. Fringes and hand-made Silk Trimmings, with and without Cut Beads, are very popular, and the best Styles are scarce. We are showing a large line in Scotch. English and French Plaids in Serges and Plain Cloths. Broadcloths are more popular than ever for Tailor-made Costumes. In Plain Goods, Henriettas, Serges and Whip Cords have the sway for light materials, while for Rough effects, Cheviots, Home Spuns and Aldine Suitings have come to the front for Street Dresses. English Corduroys are all the rage for Traveling and Carriage Dresses, and are affected by the Bon-Ton classes. Cloakings are shown in Rough effects.

Now, a few words about Black Goods: As in the Colored Goods, rough effects, such as Home Spuns, Cheviots, Camel's Hair, are the correct styles. For Black Goods in smooth effects, we are showing Broadcloths, English Cloths, Serges, Whip Cords, Broad Wales, Plaids, Stripes, Rip Reversible Cords, Henriettas, Rayestines, Biarritz and Sebastopol.

We have many new things in Silk and Woolen Goods to mention, but our space forbids. Come and see these Handsome Goods, and don't buy until you have visited our elegant stock. Remember! Quality superb. Quantity largest. Prices lowest.

CONCERNING PARTY INTEGRITY

Mr. Pond's Record as a Financial Reformer-An Off-Color Leg-Islative Candidate from Napa County.

San Francisco Call. A weekly journal, which for some time has been in an unhappy frame of mind, gives fair notice that "if the Republican State Central Committee undertakes to make common cause with those who sold out Morrow in the late Intercounty Commerce State Convention for coin in hand paid, not a man on the Republican ticket will be elected." This threat is noticed only as showing the character of the soas snowing the character of the so-called Republican paper conducted by Governor Waterman's private secre-tary. The intimation that the nom-ination of Colonel Markham was secured by the use of money is infam-The charge does not harmon-nation. The charge does not harmonize with the other charge that the supporters of Mr. Morrow were bulldozed, which is made in another column of the same issue of the private secretary's private note-book of grievances. The Call is well aware that there are thousands of Republican voters who would not support a ticket at the head of which is a man who purchased his nomination. But no evidence has reached the public which warrants the reached the public which warrants the suspicion that Col. Markham's nomi-nation was not fairly obtained. On the contrary, when the convention adjourned it was a common remark that it had been a clean convention—that money cut no figure in the nomination of any one of the candidates.

Pond has been Mayor of San Fran-elsco for four years past, during which time the city taxes have been increased $1,000,000. Buckley has also been boss sime the city taxes have been increased $1,000,000. Buckley has also been boss and his nefarious schemes have been perpetrated unchecked. He appoints all the minor officers and levies his contributions upon the office-holders, and Pond the Mayor, says not a word. There has been no collision between Pond and Buckley during all that time. Pond and Buckley during all that time, at least no one has heard of it. In 1898 Pond ran 10,000 votes behind his ticket in San Francisco, but the Buckley ring saved him. At the San José conven tion Buckley threw the 144 votes of his lambs to Pond and nominated him on the fourth ballot. Shaffer, a member of the San José convention, stated in a speech in Marysville on the 13th inst.

that he had a conference with Buckley and that Buckley desired the nomination of Pond.
The last Legislature was Democratic The last Legislature was Democratic and it made extravagant appropriations to the extent of $12,000,000. Buckley ran the Legislature through the San Francisco delegation, and was present in person much of the time in the lobby directing his delegation how to vote. Pond is an intimate associate of Buckley and is smillated with the rottenest city government on the American continent. He has effected no reform in San Francisco and yet the Democrats hall him as a reformer of State politics and of State extravagance perpetrated by the Democratic party. Such flimsy demagogism is perfectly transparent and should deceive no one. The only hope of residual properties are the properties of the only country in the world that I looked up to with love and admiration. When I landed on these shores, my heart expanded within me, and while neither forgetting nor despising the unfortunate land of my nativity, I wowed eternal fealty to the country of my adoption. I was acquainted with its history, and loved it for its friend-ship for poor, unfortunate Ireland.

of State politics and of State extrava-gance perpetrated by the Democratic party. Such flimsy demagogism is perfectly transparent and should de-ceive no one. The only hope of re-form is in the election of H. H. Markham, and in the success of the whole Republican ticket. Concerning Party Integrity.

Isan Francisco Post.!

In his speech on Monday night last, Col. Markham recalled to mind the famous cry raised by Hendricks in the campaign of 1884: "Open the books!"
He also pointed out that the books were opened, and that, after twentyfour years of Republican rule only. four years of Republican rule, only a discrepancy of one cent was found. There is a whole sermon in that little incident, when it is considered in connection with the present condition of our State finances. The Re-publican party has been weighed in the balance, not once, but often, and it has never been found wanting. There was no foundation for Hen-drick's outery other that supplied by drick's outcry other that supplied by the wantonness of partisan malice; but, boomerang-like, it served to bring into a concentrated light the astounding fact that, in all its twenty-four years of stewardship of the federal affairs, not one of the Republican party's in-struments had been unfaithful. The books were opened, and every corner of them searched by the keen eyes of political opportents, and yet no wrong the public, and for this the party or-ganization offers no apology. It is un-repentant, and yet has the brazen au-dacity to ask for a chance to do it again.

A Democratic contemporary flercely inquires, "Who is this man Markham anyhow?" Keep cool, esteemed contemporary, and consult the Sacramento directory for 1891.—[San Francisco Post.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Solld Reasons.

WHY AN IRIH-AMERICAN CITIZEN IS A REPUBLICAN.

Los Angeles, CAL., Sept. 22 .- [To the Editor of THE TIMES.] I have been many times in my life very much annoyed by reflections on my honesty or sanity by Democratic friends when first learning that I trained with the Republican party. The usual exclama-tion has been, "Why, I always took you for a Democrat!" and I have been frequently asked, even the last few months, if I could tell why I voted the Republican ticket. Up to within the last few years a Kepublican Irishman ous unless accompanied with proof. It is an intimation that might be thrown at any one who secures a contested nominationality, and I might say, by Demothe majority of persons of his own nationality, and I might say, by Demo> in some or the best schools of that country. Fortunately for myself, I acquired a pretty fair acquaintance with the history of the United States from an American standpoint, our text book on that subject having been writ-ten, printed and published in the United States. It goes without saying that I grew up a thorough Republican and an ardent Nationalist. The dream and ambition of my youth was that I might have an opportunity of striking a blow for the freedom of my native land. On the breaking out of the late land. On the breaking out of the late unpleasantness I was in my twentieth year and had but recently graduated from college. I watched the course of the civil war at first with an aching heart. The London Times and all the English papers that I had an opportunity of reading, gloated over the fondly-anticipated disruption of this Government. They habitually spoke of this country as the dis-United States, and sneeringly referred to the cowardice and inefficiency of American armies. But in common with the majority of my countrymen, I chanted a Te Deum when the rebels were finally defeated and the country saved. Shortly after the close of the war came Fenianism, which naturally enlisted my active sympathies. I was several times arrested, but my lack of prominence, in connection with influential friends obtained my release. I beship for poor, unfortunate Ireland. I first settled in an important Western city. I associated principally with countrymen of my own, who were all Democrats. Before I had been three months in the country I was astounded by a proposition made to me by one of them that I should register and vote at the approaching election. I objected that I was not yet a citizen and therefore could not legally register. He laughed at my scruples and gave me a letter to the county clerk. It read something as follows: "Dear Dan: The bearer of this is a friend of mine

The bearer of this is a friend of mine and a good Democrat. Register him. Yours truly, T. M." This letter I never presented, and shortly after moved to one of the border States, where I engaged in the honorable and useful occupation of schoolmaster. Here I remained for seven years, wielding the birch over a lot of young rebels for the most part. I gave special attention to most part. I gave special attention to the study, in my leisure hours, of the Constitution and history of the United States. Times without number was I an unwilling listener to diatribes against the Government. Often were my ears shocked by curses both loud and deep, directed against Abraham Lincoln and "the d—d Yankees." I was earnestly informed that the former was in a certain warm region political opposents, and yet no wrong could be found.

But how is it with the Democracy of this State? It requires no open books to disclose its lack of faithfulness. This year's tax bills and a copy of the Democratic platform supply the evidence which convicts the party of rampant rascality. The tax bills assess the people at the rate of seventy-two cents on the hundred dollars for the maintenance of the government, while the platform asserts that the income from a tax rate of forty-five cents on the hundred dollars is sufficient for the purpose. It follows, therefore, that the outrageous profligacy of the last Democratic Legislature got well along towards doubling the burdens of the public, and for this the party organization offers no apology. It is unrepentant, and yet has the brazen auformer was in a certain warm region when I had reason to suspect the fit the public, and for this the party organization offers no apology. It is unrepentant, and yet has the brazen audaoity to ask for a chance to do it again.

Napa County Legislative Candidate. The prolities in san Francisco Wave. If Mr. Stow persists in his determination to run C. J. Beerstecher for the Assembly in Napa county, he will lose a member from there. Beerstecher was formerly a sandlotter. He was elected to the Constitutional Convention in 1878 by that party before he had been out here from Michigan for two years. The following year he was nominated by the sandlotters for Raiiroad Commissioner from this district. This was the commission in which General Stoneman made the record that subsequently sent him to the gubernatorial office at Sacramento.

But Beerstecher sold out, pure and simple. In order to avoid voting he actually deserted the commission and could not be found. The following year the Legislature investigated him. It was found that the penniless sandlotter had grown suddenly rich. He had a ranch and vineyard in Napa county and money in the bank. When summoned to testify, the only explanation he could give of the possession of so much money was that his folks had sent it to him from Michigan!

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—[To the Elitor of The Times.]

It is an affair of almost daily occurrence that isolated cases of abuse of animals or children are referred to, but entirely without any data by which the parties in fault could be apprenatory without probity he would so trade his vote on bills to come before the House as to secure that many for the man who employed him. But the people of Napa will not permit Beerstecher to restrict and of those witnessing the large and the public head of those witnessing the large and the provided him. In regard to the bill which has passed Congress creating a national park to be known as Sequoia Park, the San Francisco Call remarks: "The land to be inclosed in the park will cover 50,000 acres. It embraces nearly the whole of the tract which is well known to the people of Tulare as the rigion of the Big Trees; is situated some forty-five miles northeast of Visalia, at an elevation of from 6000 to 7000 feet, and soreads almost without a break from King's River to Kahweah River. In Mariposa, Calaveras and Humboldt the giant sequoias occur in clumps in the midst of the forests of other growths. In Tulare they are almost continuous; the traveler can journey all day on horseback without losing sight of them. They are nearly, if not sight of them. They are nearly, if not quite, the most gigantic of the se-quoias; trees have been seen which measured 100 feet and over in circumference at the base and over 300 feet in height

Santa Barbara Wool.

The Santa Barbara Press, in commenting upon a remor that the Ploneer Woolen Mill of San Francisco is negotiating with the Natural Gas Company at Summerland in that county, says: "That a woolen mill could be made to pay in Santa Barbara is apparent. This county is a great wool-raising district. On the island of Santa Rosa there are 60 000 sheet: on Santa Cruz. district. On the island of Santa Rosa there are 60,000 sheep; on Santa Cruz, 35,000; on San Miguel, 5000; on Anacapa, 3000; on the great San Julian ranch, 30,000; besides innumerable smaller flocks in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. These figures are from the County Assessor's books, and are probably underestimates."

Advertisements Are Interesting. The newspaper without any adver-tisements, which Mrs. Julia Ward tisements, which Mrs. Julia Ward Howe wants to see, might suit the taste of some people, but it would be without a very interesting feature. The idea that the advertisements in a newspaper only please the counting room unfortunately obtains in some quarters, but, to the great mass of people, they are not only interesting, but useful and instructive reading. They are the shoppers' vade mecum, the busness man's guide and everybody's inness man's guide and everybody's in-structor. A newspaper without ad-vertising columns would fail to ac-complish its mission. Besides it would be as poor as Job's turkey. Novel Scenic Effects.

It is an easy, selfish and cheap way to content oneself with a report to some newspaper, long after the guilty party has escaped. But what the Humane Society really needs is a public that will actively take part in bringing abuses to their knowledge promptly and with the names and dates necessary to the arrest. That the work is unpleasant, none know better than the officers of the society; but none know so well how necessary it is. The officers and agent of the society are willing, but they are not superhuman. A PASTOR HONORED.

Rev. C. E. Harris Tendered a Reception.

The annals of auctions would furnish some instructive instances of the marvelsome instructive instances of the marver-ous changes in value brought about by higher artistic tastes or the varying caprice of fashion. Few, perhaps, are more strik-ing than the following: When Prussia was in the throes of her life and death strug-cle with France sarly in the present contin the throes of her life and death struggle with France early in the present century the ladies of Berlin threw their ornaments of gold into their country's treasury, receiving in return trinkets of iron.
It was long before the artistic merit of this Berlin ironwork was recognized by collectors. At a sale many years ago a London dealer strolled into an auction room just as some specimens of this work were thrown on the table. Knowing nothing of its history, but admiring its beauty, he thrown on the table. Knowing nothing of its history, but admiring its beauty, he ventured to bid something less than thirty shillings, and bought, as he believed, a bracelet. Next day he sent his man to bring home his purchase. To his astonishment the servant shortly returned for a truck, and his master learned that he had bought about two hundred weight of the iron ornaments, of which what he had seen produced was but a sample. For many years this dealer was accustomed to make presents of his Berlin iron to his best customers. How much of his stock he had still on hand when the eyes of collectors were opened has not been recorded, but there is no doubt that what he bought so casually would now be worth several thoucasually would now be worth several thou-sand pounds.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Remedies for Warts.

Warts are due to some local irritation of the cuticle. They can be easily removed by small doses of sulphate of magnesia, taken internally. Children treated with three grain doses of Epsom salts morning and evening were promptly cured. M. Aubert cites the case of a woman whose face was disfigured by these excrescences and who was cured in a month by a dram and a half of magnesia taken daily. Another medical man reports a case of very large warts which dauppeared in a fortnight from a daily administration of ten grains of the salts. A still simpler but effective cure is external—mere rubbing of the wart at frequent intervals of the day. This persistent agitation or kneading seems to displace the rock, and in a short time the wart disappears.—Detroit Free Press.

The scarf was a yard and a quarter of bolting cloth tied so that one end was nearly half again as long as the other; the longer end was painted with a bunch of red clover and leaves, and the other end was in white daisies with gold centers. Below the painting on each end was a plain space of four inches, finished on the edge with long white silk tassels. Draped over one end of a wine colored plush sofa the effect was most beautiful.—Housewife.

The young ladies of the Olivewood successful manner in which they conducted the pink tea Monday evening. It was a farewell occasion to Rev. T. C. Miller, who will in all likelihood be transferred to some other pasterale at the conference new in session at Banta Barbara. Everything was pink, from the bloom on the cheeks of the fair attendants to the dresses they were and the doughnuts on the table, which were colored the proper hue with confectioner's sugar. The refreshments were toothsome and a sufficient quantity were sold to net the church a handsome profit. A musical and literary successful manner in which they conprogramme was rendered during the early part of the evening, which added much to the pleasure of those present.

Both Drew Guns. Francisco Echevest got back at John Cazaurang yesterday. Constable Slater brought the former gentleman before Justice Van Doren yesterday on the charging of drawing a gun on Caz-aurang Sunday night. Echevest an-swered the complaint by swearing out a similar one on Cazaurang, and Fri-day morning at 9 o'clock was set for the hearing.

Three Kinds of American Negroes. Dr. Broadus, in a lecture on the colored people at Chautauqua, said that there were in this country three distinct races—just In this country three distinct races—just as distinct as Mexicans and Yankees. First, there were the brown negroes, not very numerous. Most people suppose that they have white blood in their veins, "but I am told," said he, "that in the Niger country there are brown negroes who surpass their black brothers in strength and intelligence, and there is race prejudice among them against the black negroes, a preju-dice that I have frequently noticed in the south. 'I ain't gwine to marry no black south. I an't gwine to marry no black niggah' is a frequent expression among the brown negroes. Then there are the black negroes with good feature, also comparatively few in numbers. They have thin noses and lips and high foreheads, and are superior physically and mentally to the other blacks. Lastly are the great mass of negroes of a lower order physical-ly and mentally."

Dr. Broadus said it might be supposed that the slave traders would have tried to that the sinve traders would have tried to get the better men in preference to the lower grades. But the reason why they did not was obvious. The stronger and more in-telligent negroes lived in the interior of Africa and were not easy to get at. Then, too, they had subdued the weaker tribes, and in bartering for slaves naturally these weaker people would be sold. These weaker tribes came from the Guinea and Congo crutices came from the Guinea and Congo coasts. Dr. Broadus said he had invaria-bly found that when a negro manifested uncommon intelligence and rose superior to the ordinary plane of his race he was either a mulatto or a brown negro, or a black negro with good features.—Buffalo Courier.

Our Stock of Drugs Reduced Very Low by Unprecedented Sales-Some Choice Bargains in Other Departments.

PEOPLE'S STORE. Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1890.

The truth of our assertions regarding drugs—the prices at which we sell them—received another flattering endorsement yes-terday at the hands of the public. We regret that our stock of some things was not equal to the demand. We have a large in-voice now on the way, and while giving this explanation, would suggest your waiting a few days for such as we may not be able to There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union office for Mme. A. HAMBURGER & SONS. THE LATE PRINTERS' STRIKE.

Facts that Controvert Misrepresentation—Attitude of "The Times." TO THE PUBLIC. First. The strike was not on account of wages, hours of labor, lack of prompt payment, or any personal griev-

Second. The proprietors of the four daily papers had had under consideration the question of retrenchment in their several establishments, and agreed unanimously in laying before the Typographical Union, for consideration, the question of a slight reduction in rates of composition—not, however, presenting any ultimatum. The union arbitrarily refused any concession, and on the 4th of August made a stand-and-deliver demand upon the proprietors to sign, within twenty-four hours, a contract maintaining existing rates for the period of one year. The proprietors, believing that to comply would be unmanly and degrading, refused to sign. The strike followed within twenty-four hours, being formally put into force at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of August 5th, though the men employed on The Thires had actually stopped work several hours before. The proprietors railied and got out their papers without missing an issue, though much crippled for the time being. the Typographical Union, for consider-

Third. The union strikers having voluntarily abandoned good situations on THE TIMES and the Herald, and locked themselves out, the proprietors had no alternative left but to fill their no alternative left but to fill their places permanently, which they have done.

Fourth. The force employed by THE TIMES are members of the Printers' Protective Fraternity, a rival organized-labor body. The men receive the same wages as their predecessors, are equally competent, more reliable, and not unjust or despotic in their demands. The Fraternity has discipline, solidarity and esprit ducorps. The members work under laws, rules and regulations of their own, which do not interfere with that control which the proprietors have a right to exercise over prietors have a right to exercise over

There with that control which the proprietors have a right to exercise over their own property and business. Their motto is: "Live and lettive." Fifth. The attitude of THE TIMES towards organized labor cannot be successfully assailed. We confidently appeal to the unimpeachable judgment rendered by our pay-rolls from week to week during many years. For the year ended September 30, 1889, THE TIMES' composing-room bills aggregated $27.887.93, being a weekly average of $538.30. For the seven months and five days immediately preceding the strike—that is, from December 31st, 1889, to August 5th, 1890, inclusive—The TIMES furnished to the mistaken men who went out on atrike steady and lucrative employment aggregating 4213 days, being a little over 702 weeks of six working days each. For this service we paid $17,114.40, averaging $2444.91 per month, or $570.40 per week, being an increase over the rate per week for the preceding year. The taverage pay per man during this period, instead of being lower than foraverage pay per man during this per-iod, instead of being lower than for-merly, was high; it was a trifle over $4.06 per day all round. The averages made by individual members of the force were as follows: Foreman (when working full time) pe Assistant foreman (when working full Day foreman per week (for partial time only). 16 88

The piece rate paid, 50 cents per 1000 ems, is the highest paid on the coast, and obtains only in the leading cities. It is from 20 to 30 per cent. higher than present condition, it is feared, will prove fatal.
